Dear Parents/Carers,

What a busy week full of learning and fun. Our children here at Holy Trinity are so special and I am thoroughly enjoying getting to know them all. This week I have been observing all of our fabulous teachers and teaching assistants and it has been so wonderful to see some of the fantastic learning that has been taking place in classes this week. Our staff work so very hard to provide the best learning opportunities for our children and it was an absolute joy to spend time in class with them all.

Thank you so much to the parents who came to my 'Meet the Head Teacher' meeting last Thursday. It was lovely to meet with you and talk about my vision for our wonderful school.

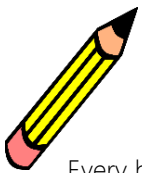

Thank you for all of your support at our Macmillan fundraising day. Your generosity was very much appreciated. So far we have raised £223.27. The money raised at our next cinema event will also be donated to this special charity.

I look forward to seeing you at our Harvest Festival next Wednesday at Holy Trinity Church. Remember to bring in your donations by Tuesday at the latest.

Have a wonderful weekend,

With very kind regards,

Sarah-Jane Pendleton

Holiday workshops

Every holiday I will be holding a two-day inspiring writing workshop for a different year group. In the summer holidays, I held a workshop for Year 6, so this holiday it is the turn of Year 5, who are invited to join me for a two day reading and writing extravaganza. In the February half-term I will be organising the same event for Year 4 and in the Easter holidays Year 3. Year 2 will be invited for a workshop in the May half term. It is a wonderful opportunity for me to inspire our children to read and write through a range of exciting reading and writing activities. Having worked for many years as a National Strategy Literacy Consultant, it is my passion to inspire children to read and write and I absolutely love getting back into the classroom.
