June 2016

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for expressing an interest in the post of Learning Mentor of our school. The information pack can be downloaded from the school website. Please read the job description and person specification carefully before completing the application form. We expect you to refer to the person specification, with examples from your own experience, in your application.

A one form entry school, founded in 1874, our original listed building has been extended to provide a more modern learning environment. We had an OFSTED inspection in February 2015, graded 'Good', and our SIAMS inspection, at the same time, graded us as 'Outstanding'. Our Christian ethos is important to us and we have close links to Holy Trinity Church. We see ourselves as a community in which every member is valued so it is especially important that the new Learning Mentor of Holy Trinity sees communicating with and supporting families as a priority. Our school works hard to develop partnerships with parents, carers and others who may from time to time give advice on the best way to make our children the most successful learners they can be.

Inner City schools provide challenges but also provide the exciting opportunity of working in an environment of diverse cultures and with easy access to learning in the wider community. Experience and enjoyment of working in our sort of community is required of candidates.

The famous Horniman Museum is within walking distance of our school, we are over the road from a library and swimming pool and we use our excellent transport links to take advantage of the facilities offered in central London.

Please return your application to the school by email (preferable) or post or by 4pm on Thursday, 30th June Interviews will be held on Monday, 4th July.

We very much expect that you will want to visit the school. You can arrange this by contacting our business manager, Susan Proctor Watson :

We look forward to receiving your application

Yours faithfully
