Friday 10th November 2017

*Dear Parents, Carers and Children,
We have thought a lot this week about Armistice day and Remembrance Sunday. Thank you to those children who have purchased a poppy this week- our Year 6 children have thoroughly enjoyed selling them. We have thought about peace and hope and we shared the story of 'Where the poppies grow' in collective worship. Set in World War I the story takes readers on a journey of friendship set against the changing landscape of innocence, of war and then finally, of peace. We also spoke about the symbolism of the poppies not only as remembrance but also as a symbol of hope.
Have a wonderful weekend.
With very kind regards,
Sarah-Jane Pendleton*

We are all looking forward to Children in Need next week.
